HEAVY DEALINGS IN STOCK. For some time there has been an under-current of pending changes, and dealings in the stock have been heavy, though carried on in a quiet way. James Campbell, the well-known broker, has been a heavy buyer of St. Louis Transit common, and it is believed he has acquired sufficient holdngs to put the deal through as outlined in the statement of President Carleton and that the first panel had but one man on Brown Brothers & Co. of New York, It that was competent to serve. has agreed to underwrite the bonds of the Untied Rallways Company.

The Cella-Adler-Tilles syndicate has been sellings its holdings in St. Louis Transit for last two days, so it is said. Yesterday morning Transit common went down to and yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Camp of the two companies it is believed he had acquired all the stock necessary to put the

The common stock of the St. Louis Tran sit has never reached par, but has always been far below that figure. The highest price ever paid for it was about three years ago, when it brought 36.75. The lowest point reached was about a year ago then it was offered at 5, at which time the Cella syndicate bought heavily, its holdings averaging about $8 a share. It was stated by President Carleton that the acceptance of the proposition by the stockholders means the readjustment of the United Company's affairs and placing the properties on a better basis than it was possible for the Transit Company to do. In his statement to the stockholders he said the company had ex-hausted its resources; that bonds author-ized by the company were unsold and perate. He then states the bonded inshowing how the funds accruing from the sale of the several bond iss expended. It seems that the efforts to fix the resposibility for the wreck which cost the lives of seven persons, have met with success, and although no positive statements have come from the Grand Jury room, it is probable that the crew of the wrecked Suburban car will be among those who will be indicted.

Many witnesses have been before the Grand Jury in connection with this accident, but it is impossible to learn whether their testimony is of such nature as to cause the action of the Grand Jury to seach to the officers of the companies operating either the Suburban or the Wabash railroads.
